CONTINUOUS HIGH PRESSURE LAMINATE

Sonae Innovus - for the future of your surroundings

Sonae are one of the largest wood-based panel producers in the world, with a great history of producing and developing quality high pressure laminates; that are as beautiful as they are practical. Specially designed for general use in the most demanding situations of wear and impact, and ideal for bonding to supporting substrates. Sonae laminate has excellent shaping capabilities, increasing its suitability for beautiful furniture manufacture.

This modern, fashionable collection of soft or strong plain colours, granites, marbles, woods and various textures delivers an excellent alternative to solid wood and stone materials.

Range

The Sonae Continuous High Pressure range has been specially selected for the UK. It is drawn from the Sonae Global Innovus series of 150 decors. Completing the range are matching decors in Compact, Melamine-faced core-boards and postformed worktops.

ABS / PVC edging is also available to match each decor.

Material Construction

High pressure laminate is constructed by combining layers of impregnated paper under high pressure to produce a durable and hard-wearing surface that when combined with a suitable substrate may be shaped and machined to allow for countless applications.

Properties of high pressure laminate include:

- Abrasion and scratch resistance
- Hygienic characteristics
- Resistance to heat
- Impact resilient

Conforming to BS EN-438, this stable and hygienic material allows for the creation of a wide design palette; utilising colour, tone and style to deliver attractive results.

Applications

- Education
- Healthcare
- Laboratory
- Office interiors
- Hotels and bars

Uses

- Furniture
- Vehicle interiors
- Kitchen frontals
